| Category | Advanced Development |

Symptom

1. The BCS Installation Test requires that the most current BCP or BCG BC set is activated in template client 045 - this check needs to be automated.
 2. Consultants not familiar with the QuantityWare BCS Solutions may utilize SAP QCI IMG access points in an attempt to configure QuantityWare implementations and are not aware of the BCS IMG accessed via the PMC or GMC.

Solution

This note provides two enhancements:

1. The Gas Measurement Cockpit and Petroleum Measurement Cockpit installation test check logic has been redesigned with simplified logic, ensuring that the activated BCS BC set fits to the BCS software level; only then can a BCS Installation Test can be executed in a "client 045" environment.

2. The QuantityWare BCS IMG is now available within the SAP IMG at the appropriate SAP QCI configuration nodes:
